European Proceedings of Social and Behavioural Sciences (EpSBS) is an open access, peer-reviewed and refereed series. The main objective of the EpSBS is to promote interdisciplinary studies in social and behavioural sciences by providing a platform for international scholars to disseminate their work.

Topics include but are not limited to anthropology, archaeology, psychology, sociology, philosophy, interdisciplinary humanities, economics, political science and additional entries in related fields, including education, legal studies, environmental studies and media studies. The series also welcomes works highlighting the connection between human activities and social interactions.

The EpSBS publishes theoretical, experimental or application-based works with the objective of contributing to a greater understanding and development of social and behavioural sciences. EpSBS publishes either monographs for example, master thesis/doctoral dissertations or edited volumes based on the outcomes of conferences.

Once published, all proceedings are submitted for evaluation and possible coverage in Web of Science Core Collection™ Conference Proceedings Citation Index - Social Sciences & Humanities (CPCI-SSH).

Preface

The volume contains proceedings of the International Scientific and Practical Conference «State and Law in the Context of Modern Challenges» (SLCMC 2021) which was held on June, 17, 2021, in Saratov State Law Academy, Saratov, Russia.

The objective of the conference was to establish an academic discussion on legal and social problems relevant for professional and social communities in Russia and surrounding states. The event was dedicated to the discussions, opinions and reports concerning legal, economic, philosophical, historical, linguistic and political aspects of social transformations altering local communities and affecting global trends.

The International Scientific and Practical Conference «State and Law in the Context of Modern Challenges» (SLCMC 2021) was an interdisciplinary discussion platform, which had brought together both lecturers and researchers. This conference was attended by specialists in the field of law, social policy, philosophy, history, and linguistics; public figures and representatives of state authorities. The geography of the participants covered various regions of Russia and the CIS countries, as well as Asia and Western Europe.

The mission of the Conference was a deep and comprehensive scientific understanding of fundamental concepts of law and law-making; humanity and civilization. A wide array of questions, both theoretical and applied by nature, related to the issues of social changes in the modern world were addressed by the conference presenters. The event gathered a large number of scholars and researchers with an expertise in the aforementioned areas of knowledge such as:

- Legal, economic and socio-cultural aspects of digital transformation
- transformation of the anti-criminal cycle sciences in the era of innovative Technologies
- socio-cultural transformations of the philosophy of law
- efficiency of public power: new challenges and solutions
- state, economy, society: problems of interaction in the context of modern challenges
- national, public and private interests in the era of global challenges: international public and international private law perspectives
- fundamental research of the theory, structure and historical development of the world languages; political relations in the Russian society: authority, democracy, personality;
- transformation of the social structure of Russian society; strengthening of Russian statehood, including federal-subjects relations;
- scientific foundations of the concept of the socio-economic strategy of the Russian Federation;
- issues of human potential development;
- the potential of the Russian Federation and national wealth growth issues

The discussion on a wide array of issues combined 8 sections and 5 round tables. The topics of the conference sessions included the following:

- protection of public interests in the era of global challenges and transformations: international law instruments, international private law and comparative legal dimension;
- development of the rulemaking process in the context of digitalization;
- modern economy: regional and global aspects;
- artificial intelligence and social networks: self-regulation and public administration;
- socio-political transformations in globalization conditions: regional manifestations;
- public authority in modern Russia: problems and prospects;
- philosophical and legal issues of international scientific and technical cooperation and development;

- issues of linguistics in the context of globalization.

A memorable excursion program was provided by the conference organizers: the conference participants visited the Victory Park located on Sokolovaya Mountain in Saratov and the Park of Space Explorers named after Yuri Gagarin. The results of the conference were summed up at the commemorative meeting.

4 presentations by distinguished local scientists invited as keynote speakers were made; 2 plenary sessions of 6 presentations each were held: Normative dimension through the prism of a modern individual and humanity, Development of the digital economy and unified digital environment of trust. Several workshops were organized, where participants had an opportunity to learn more about current legal trends and the specifics of the interaction of subjects in the digital environment.

Thematics sessions were organized as follows:

- Protection of public interests in the era of global challenges and transformations.
- Development of the rulemaking process in the context of digitalization.
- Modern economy: regional and global aspects.
- Artificial Intelligence & Social Networks: self-regulation and public administration.
- Socio-political transformations in globalization conditions: regional manifestations.
- Public power in modern Russia: problems and prospects.
- Philosophical and legal issues of international scientific and technical cooperation and development.
- Issues of linguistics in the context of globalization.

Submission and the review process was handled via email. 131 abstracts and registration proposals have been received. 123 papers were accepted, and 105 papers were presented at the conference by participants' from Russia, Belarus, Kazakhstan, Armenia, Germany, and Czech Republic. Each author was allotted 10 minutes to present their paper with an extra 5 minutes for discussion, 3 minutes for debates.

The software program Antiplagiat.ru was used for plagiarism detection. Each submission was subjected to a single-blind review process by two reviewers. The number of submissions received and reviewed was 66 and the number of submissions accepted was 36 indicating an acceptance rate of 85%. A total of 14 reviewers were involved in the review process. 4 of 14 were invited from outside of the committee. Reviewers had to answer the following questions: 1. Does the contribution fit the scope? 2. Does the contribution feature original research? 3. Are the results and conclusions adequate? 4. Does the presentation style meet academic standards?

We would like to express our gratitude and appreciation to all attendees, contributors for all the great scientific input and for many fruitful discussions and interaction. We also want to honor fourteen reviewers for their time and effort contributed to make this volume published. Special thanks goes to editors, chairs and their assistants for tremendous work they have done on handling the correspondence, coordinating peer-review process, proof-reading and copy-editing papers.
