Preface

On behalf of the organising committee, I am pleased to present the proceedings containing selected, peer-reviewed papers from the International Conference on Sustainable Practices, Development and Urbanisation 2021 (IConSPADU) which was held on November 16, 2021 in Selangor, Malaysia.

The International Conference on Sustainable Practices, Development and Urbanisation 2021 (IConSPADU) focused on the theme of “Reimagining Resilient Sustainability: An Integrated Effort in Research, Practices and Education”. This conference is another milestone for the Centre for Foundation and General Studies (PADU) to cultivate the culture of research and innovations among the members of PADU and the academic community at large. Apart from that, this international conference is also a platform for PADU and UNISEL in promoting the importance of Sustainable Development Goals (SDG).

This conference encourages researchers, institutions, academics, and policymakers at all levels to exchange recent discoveries, information, problems, and challenges encountered. In addition, the objective of this conference includes identifying ideas for solutions that are fully realised in the present and compatible with the subject of sustainability and modernity in accordance with the current situation.

Cutting-edge works and significant challenges currently being addressed in sustainability research were presented by the panels, Dr. James Wilton Ily from Imperial College London and Dr. Amjad Hussein from Marmara University, Turkey. We also have two representatives from the industry Dr. Thomas Weinberger from Stirtec, Austria and Dr. Amir Shaharuddin from Yayasan Waqaf Malaysia with different fields of expertise. Though the pandemic had gravely affected the world, these circumstances did not diminish the spirit of scholars, education providers, and authorities around the world to continue the noble cause of providing knowledge to the public at large. For we educators and scholars understand that education will not just enlighten the students but also the teachers.

We have received participants in line with the following sub-theme: promoting social responsibility in achieving sustainability, realising sustainability development in technology and industries, constructing education in meeting sustainable development goals, exploring political commitment for sustainable development, and reshaping economic sustainability. The participants come from different countries including Malaysia, India and Oman. They were allocated 15 minutes to present their paper. Best paper awards are separated into 4 categories and different levels such as Gold, Silver, and Bronze. The review process for the papers was stringent. Each submission was subjected to a single-blind review process by reviewers. Moreover, every paper submitted is required to have a copy of the Turnitin plagiarism check together with the copyright form. The number of submissions received and reviewed was 99 and the number of submissions accepted was 75 indicating an acceptance rate of 76%. We hope that this publication will provide the readers with a broad overview of the research related to Sustainability Development Goals (SDG), and that it will be a valuable reference source for further research. Therefore, the organiser would like to express their sincere appreciation and thanks to all the authors for their contributions to this publication and the reviewers for their constructive comments on the papers.

The International Conference on Sustainable Practices, Development and Urbanisation 2021 (IConSPADU) was hosted by Universiti Selangor, Malaysia, and organized by the Centre for Foundation and General Studies (PADU), in collaboration with the Lembaga Zakat Selangor, Pusat Islam Universiti Selangor and Universiti Tenaga Nasional (UNITEN) for their substantial funding which ensured the smooth organisation of IConSPADU 2021. We are also thankful to Imperial College, London, Marmara University, Turkey, and various tertiary institutions in Malaysia for their strategic collaboration and continuous support towards IConSPADU 2021.

With a humble heart and sincere gratitude, the conference chair and co-chairs express their sincere appreciation to all the organising institutions. Special thanks are due to the riveting keynote speakers and all the involved panellists at the discussion. Finally, we are also thankful for the insights, support, and dedication that have been given by all collaborators, participants, and committee members.
