European Proceedings of Social and Behavioural Sciences (EpSBS) is an open access, peer-reviewed and refereed series. The main objective of EpSBS is to provide an intellectual platform for the international scholars. EpSBS aims to promote interdisciplinary studies in social and behavioural sciences and become the leading series in social and behavioural sciences in the world.

Topics include anthropology, archaeology, psychology, sociology, philosophy, interdisciplinary humanities, economics, political science and additional entries in related fields, including education, environmental studies and media. The series also welcomes works showing connections between human activities and social interactions.

The EpSBS publishes theoretical, experimental or application-based works with the objective of contributing to a greater understanding and development of social and behavioural sciences. EpSBS publishes either monographs for example, master thesis/doctoral dissertations or edited volumes based on the outcomes of conferences.

Once published, all proceedings are submitted for evaluation and possible coverage in Web of Science Core Collection™ Conference Proceedings Citation Index - Social Sciences & Humanities (CPCI-SSH).

Preface

The volume contains selected, refereed papers submitted for the biannual conference «KNOWLEDGE, MAN AND CIVILIZATION». This year's congress was hosted by Complex Scientific Research Institute n. a. H.I. Ibragimov of the Russian Academy of Sciences, the leading technical university in North Caucasus, on 24-25 October, 2020.

The objective of the conference is to reinforce academic ties between research organizations and universities in the wide sphere of social, political, and cultural studies. The event is supposed to be dedicated to the discussions, opinions, and reports concerning cultural, legal, historical, and political aspects of social transformations altering local communities and affecting global trends.

Importance of the conference is in the fact that it opens a sophisticated and professional debate on the current role of humanities in social and political life, academic and scientific areas, and in education. In the current times of continuous transformation of higher education, social sciences, and public values, it becomes very important to maintain discussion at a high professional level.

Scope and overview of the conference are discussed further. ISCKMC 2020 appeared to be both stimulating and informative with a wonderful array of keynote and invited speakers from all parts of Russia and also from Kazakhstan, Azerbaijan, and Turkey. Delegates had a wide range of sessions to choose from and faced a need of making a difficult decision on what sessions to attend. There were eight thematic sessions, each had its own keynote speaker who delivered their speeches at the end of the first day. The main sessions of the event were:

- Cross-cultural communications and global integration in the academic environment
- Science as a social enterprise
- The educational mission of the academic community
- Scientometrics, public services, and management is science
- The social and cultural value of the scientific legacy
- Scientific worldview, philosophical worldview, and scientific consciousness
- Scientific personnel training and certification
- Interdisciplinary cohesion in social science, engineering, humanities, and natural sciences

In addition to thematic sessions, two plenary sessions were held. Both plenary sessions were comprised of two short (15 minutes each) and two long speeches (25 minutes). All regular reports, including keynotes, were limited to 10 minutes followed by 10 minutes of questions and answers. Due to almost 200 hundred reported papers, all gatherings were divided into subsections to respect the two days limitation of the conference. The authors were free to choose any subsession within their thematic session.

The program consists not only of plenary and thematics sessions but also workshops and panels. This rich program provides all attendees with the opportunities to meet and interact with one another.

Peer review process was managed without the use of any specialized software. Web service Antiplagiat.ru was used to detect plagiarism. A mandatory single-blind peer-review procedure was applied. In addition, every participant had an opportunity to voluntarily give an open review of every reported study. Both mandatory and voluntary reviews were considered by editors. There were at least one and at most 6 reviewers per paper. The average number of reviews is 2. More than one hundred people contributed to the paper evaluation. Only 21 of them are committee members. In the course of the review, 384 papers were selected among 512 qualified submissions. Moreover, 57 manuscripts were not accepted for peer review due to a lack of academic quality or severe mismatch with the scope. The acceptance rate is 68 percent.

We would like to acknowledge all attendees, contributors for all their great scientific input and for many fruitful discussions and interactions. We also want to honor almost one hundred reviewers for their time and effort contributed to making this volume published. Special thanks go to editors, chairs, and their assistants for the tremendous work they did on handling the correspondence, coordinating the peer-review process, proof-reading and copy-editing papers.
