Preface

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, I am pleased to present the proceedings, which contain selected, peer-reviewed papers from the International Scientific Conference “Personality in Norm and in Pathology” (PNP), which was held on April 22-23, 2021 in Chelyabinsk State University, Chelyabinsk, Russia

Regardless of the extensive study of the phenomenon of personality by psychologists around the world, the problem of personality development remains unresolved, as ideas about personality development and the boundaries of "norm and pathology" tend to change in both historical and cultural perspective, being reassessed and redefined. This problem has been of interest both in theoretical terms and in practical applications.

The aim of the Conference was to discuss modern basic ideas about personality and its development in norm and in pathology.

The Conference Itinerary included keynote speeches, plenary sessions, and workshops which covered the following thematic sections: Personal Development in a Changing world, Mental Health in the Face of Global Challenges, Personality in Educational System, Personality in Ageing Society, Personality in Economics and Politics, Development of a Personality with Special Needs, Personality in Digitalization, Personality and Law.

50 papers were accepted, and 47 papers were presented at the Conference. Each author was given 15 minutes to present their paper. The conference's international diversity was provided by participants who came from Israel, Chile, United Kingdom, Norway, Kazakhstan, and Austria. The Best Paper Award was given to the paper entitled Personality and Criminal Trajectories in Young Adults Held in Chilean Prisons (Ricardo X. Pérez-Luco, Carolina A. Armijo, Alejandra Estrada, Paula A. Alarcón, Lorena S. Wenger, Sergio A. Chesta).

The review process for the papers was stringent. The software program /// was used for plagiarism detection. Each submission was subjected to a double-blind review process by two reviewers. The number of received and reviewed submissions was 80 and the number of submissions accepted was 50, indicating an accepting rate of 63 %. A total of 52 reviewers were involved in the review process.

International Scientific Conference “Personality in Norm and in Pathology” (PNP) was hosted by Chelyabinsk State University (Chelyabinsk, Russia), and organized by the Institute of Education and Practical Psychology of CSU in collaboration with St. Petersburg State University, I.I. Mechnikova Northwestern State Medical University, Pushkin Leningrad State University, Ugra State University, and N.G. Chernyshevsky Saratov State University.

The Conference Chair and Co-chairs express their sincere appreciation to all the organizing institutions and universities. Special thanks are to keynote speakers, Dr. Erich Kirchler (Professor of Economic Psychology, University of Vienna, Austria), Dr. Michael Wang (Emeritus Professor of Clinical Psychology, University of Leicester, United Kingdom), Dr. Prof. Gernot Ernst (Kongsberg Hospital, Norway), all plenary speakers – Professor V.S.
