European Proceedings of Social and Behavioural Sciences (EpSBS) is an open access, peer-reviewed and refereed series. The main objective of the EpSBS is to promote interdisciplinary studies in social and behavioural sciences by providing a platform for international scholars to disseminate their work.

Topics include but are not limited to anthropology, archaeology, psychology, sociology, philosophy, interdisciplinary humanities, economics, political science and additional entries in related fields, including education, legal studies, environmental studies and media studies. The series also welcomes works highlighting the connection between human activities and social interactions.

The EpSBS publishes theoretical, experimental or application-based works with the objective of contributing to a greater understanding and development of social and behavioural sciences. EpSBS publishes either monographs for example, master thesis/doctoral dissertations or edited volumes based on the outcomes of conferences.

Once published, all proceedings are submitted for evaluation and possible coverage in Web of Science Core Collection™ Conference Proceedings Citation Index - Social Sciences & Humanities (CPCI-SSH).

Preface

The volume contains proceedings of the Russian Language in Modern Scientific and Educational Environment (RLMSEE-2020), 28-29 October, 2020, Moscow, Russia.

The conference was devoted to the 90th anniversary of Professor Serafima A. Khavronina, the legend of Russian language studies, world-known methodologist, the author of textbooks and manuals on Russian as a foreign language. Her manual “Russian in exercises” was republished more than 100 times in 20 languages. So, the conference brought together specialists in the Russian language and literature, teachers of Russian as a native, non-native and foreign language. The conference was a platform for sharing experience in the sphere of teaching Russian as a foreign and non-native language in Russia and abroad.

The conference was attended by more than 200 doctors and candidates of science, teachers, postgraduates, and students. The event motivated the researchers to continue their work in the sphere of theoretical and applied Russian language studies. The conference gave young scientists the opportunity to get acquainted with modern achievements in linguistics, linguodidactics, methods of teaching the Russian language. The event contributes to promotion of the Russian language and culture abroad.

The detailed programme of the conference is available at: <https://www.rudn.ru/media/events/50422>. The plenary session included 18 keynote speeches on Russian language worldview in the pandemic, specifics of the Russian language and culture in the era of global transformations, speech sanitation in the online community, semiotic resources of modern media, digital teaching aids.

The thematic sections of the conferences included “Theoretical and applied issues of Russian language studies”, “Theory and practice of teaching Russian in different linguistic and cultural spheres”, “Digital aids in learning and teaching languages”, “Russian word in the artistic text”, “Russian linguistic culture in globalisation”.

The participants sent their application forms and abstracts via email. The materials were checked for plagiarism and sent to double-blind review process. Abstracts submitted to the conference. 150 abstracts were published. 103 full texts were submitted, 70 full texts were accepted, so the acceptance rate was 67,9. A total of 40 reviewers were involved in the review process. 102 speeches were presented at the conference in an online and offline format. Plenary speeches were allotted up to 20 minutes, while the other participants could take up to ten minutes to present their materials.

The participants represented 57 Russian and 23 foreign educational institutions and research institutes. Among the foreign participants of the conference were researchers from Italy, China, Moldova, Algeria, Vietnam, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Belarus, Kazakhstan, Turkey, Spain, Poland, Abkhazia, Myanmar, Ukraine, and Tunisia. The conference brought together foreign scientists from the University of Bologna (Italy), University of Warsaw (Poland), Vitebsk State University named after P.M. Masherov (Belarus), Vietnam National University - Ho Chi Minh City (Vietnam), University of Granada (Spain), Odessa Mechnikov National University (Ukraine), Sichuan University (China), Ağrı İbrahim Çeçen University (Turkey), etc. Russian participants represented Astrakhan State University, Bauman Moscow State Technical University, Moscow Region State University, National Research Lobachevsky State University of Nizhny Novgorod, Peoples' Friendship University of Russia, etc.

The conference chair and co-chairs acknowledge a gratitude to Peoples' Friendship University of Russia, Russian Foundation for Basic Research for assistance in carrying out the event. We also express thanks to our keynote speakers, all the session chairs, members of the organizing committee and scientific committee, and finally to all the participants for their great contribution to the conference.
