European Proceedings of Social and Behavioural Sciences (EpSBS) is an open access, peer-reviewed and refereed series. The main objective of the EpSBS is to promote interdisciplinary studies in social and behavioural sciences by providing a platform for international scholars to disseminate their work.

Topics include but are not limited to anthropology, archaeology, psychology, sociology, philosophy, interdisciplinary humanities, economics, political science and additional entries in related fields, including education, legal studies, environmental studies and media studies. The series also welcomes works highlighting the connection between human activities and social interactions.

The EpSBS publishes theoretical, experimental or application-based works with the objective of contributing to a greater understanding and development of social and behavioural sciences. EpSBS publishes either monographs for example, master thesis/doctoral dissertations or edited volumes based on the outcomes of conferences.

Once published, all proceedings are submitted for evaluation and possible coverage in Web of Science Core Collection™ Conference Proceedings Citation Index - Social Sciences & Humanities (CPCI-SSH).

Preface

Dear colleagues, with the great pleasure I present the proceedings containing selected peer reviewed papers from the scientific conference “Psychology of Personality: Real and Virtual Context” (PSYRGGU 2020) which took place 16- 18 of April 2020 at the Institute of Psychology, Russian State University for the Humanities, Moscow, Russia.

The combined form of the conference (on and off-line) reflected the difficult situation, which occurred not only in our country, but all round the world due to quarantine on COVID-19. This situation actualized the theme of our conference and somehow even modified its main goal – to analyze the factors of person’s well-being in two spaces – real and virtual. New challenges require a quick response, because the delay in the reaction can turn into a fan of new problems. And that’s why the conference keynote speeches and plenary sessions intended to answer these challenges.

There were six thematic sections: Identity in the real and network space; Clinical aspects of personality psychology in the transitive world; Social psychology of personality in the context of the transiting world; Development of people of different ages in a situation of change; Psychology of education in digital space and Young scientists section. Among keynote speeches were famous scientists from Russia, USA, France and Israel: A.G. Asmolov, Head of the Department of Personality Psychology, Moscow State University; N.V Grishina, Professor of the Department of Personality Psychology, St. Petersburg State University; S.N. Kostromina, Head of the Department of Personality Psychology, St. Petersburg State University; A.Sh. Thostov, Head of the Department of Neuro- and patopsichology, Moscow State University; Peter Steiner, Professor of University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, USA; Maryse Dennes, Professor, Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique, Bordeaux, France; A. Kagan, Professor, Israel.

The review process for the papers was stringent. Besides checking all papers for plagiarism, each submission was subjected to a double-blind review process by two reviewers. The number of submissions received and reviewed was 210 and the number of submissions accepted was 106.

The conference “Psychology of Personality: Real and Virtual Context” was organized and hosted by Institute of Psychology, Russian State University for the Humanities, Moscow, Russia.

The conference chair and co-chairs express their sincere appreciation to all the organizing institutions. Special thanks are to all the keynote speakers, all the session chairs, members of the organizing committee, scientific committee, and peer review committee.
